Re: settlement:

I still think the government should leave Microsoft alone, let you continue innovating new programs and systems.

All others can do the same on their own, I am tired of bickering and government interference.

They should look into the failure of Congress to pass the very important bill, on relief for the economy before we go down like Japan.

The Stimulus package, should have been addressed, and not the Microsoft affair.

Is this a free country,? then let the other companies do their own research, I am happy with Microsoft as it is.

Stay Well
